PRISONERS TORTURED

Deserter Tells of Horrible
Atrocities Committed on Prisoners.

LISBON, August 26.—Special dispatches received here from Melilla, Morocco, say the fighting is general on the Moroccan coast. The new Spanish artillery has wrought terrible havoc among the Moors, who have lost 1,300 men in the last three days. The Spanish column has destroyed three villages near Restinga.

A Moorish deserter, who has come into the Spanish lines, declares that Spanish prisoners, after being horribly tortured and mutilated, are decapitated and their dead bodies flung into a hole on Mount Guruga.

This hole is a mass of decomposing corpses. Bodies are placed in the number of Spanish prisoners at 1,000.

The water being diked out to the Spanish troops is insufficient. The officers buy mineral waters, but this the men cannot afford to do, and they die of thirst. The water they have drunk from stagnant pools. Many cases of poisoning have resulted. Already fifty-three men have died from this cause, and 170 have been sent to hospitals.

FLOWER OF THE NAVY

Schroeder in Charge of Eighteen Battleships Now in Practice.

NORFOLK, Va., August 26.—Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder was today in supreme command of eighteen battleships—the flower of the American Navy—while these vessels engaged in battle practice and mimic war evolutions on the southern drill grounds off the Virginia coast.

The battle practice work of the day with the dismantled torpedo boat O'Brien and battle practice barge No. 2, still as moving targets, began early in the forenoon, as told by the faint sounds of booming cannon heard along the ocean shores at Cape Henry and Virginia Beach.

The ships of the fleet being still at work between themselves with wireless batteries, screwed down to avoid commercial interference, it was impossible to pick up at this distance anything official from the fleet.

Sound Like a Bee Hive.

"They sound like a bee hive," was the summing up of receiving wireless people to-day trying to catch something from the fleet.

The first night work in battle target practice was had last night, when the brilliant searchlights from the ships were visible in the dark sky. This continued for several hours.

The cruiser division just before its departure from Hampton Roads this morning was seen to be receiving a color salute from the gunboat Commodore Maury, having aboard Brigadier-General C. C. Vaughan, commanding the Virginia militia, and members of the Norfolk and city artillery, which yesterday participated in unveiling of a monument at Tappahannock to the memory of the Confederate dead of Essex county, Va.

The battleship Missouri is expected to join the fleet in these waters September 1.

WILL SEE GOVERNOR

Mr. McKean Working Hard in Behalf of Yorktown Celebration.

W. S. McKean, secretary of the descendants of the signers in the Richmond, with a view of interesting the Governor and other officials of the State in the celebration of the Yorktown of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis to General Washington, on October 19, 1781. It is the intention of the society to have a program covering three days—October 17, 18 and 19—which will combine numerous interesting features. Mr. McKean says that considerable attention is being given the proposition to celebrate this year, which he hopes will be but the first of an annually recurring event. He has much to encourage him, he says, in the belief that both the War and Navy Departments will materially cooperate to make this event a notable one, and he also hopes that Virginia will be creditably represented by its guardsmen and distinguished citizens.

MUNROE MAKES OFFER FOR CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT

NEW YORK, August 26.—Jack Munroe, former heavyweight prize fighter and now Mayor of Elk City, Ont., telegraphed to-day to Robert Edgar, a local sporting writer, that the Elk City Athletic club had offered him a purse of $100,000 for the Jeffries-Johnson fight to take place in Canada one year from date. Munroe does not state the exact location of the battle ground, but says it is less than thirty hours from Mount Lebanon, New York and other Eastern cities.

After his quick defeat by Jim Jeffries, several years ago Munroe returned to mining, and is said to own large silver claims at Elk City. During a recent visit to New York Munroe indicated that the miners at Elk City would be glad to bid for a fight between Jeffries and Johnson.

Pitcher in Trouble.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., August 26.—Late last night Pitcher Turpe of the Carolina club was locked up in the police station, after a struggle with the police that gave three of the biggest men in the force a hard time. Turpe, in their ultimately successful effort to take their prisoner to the lockup. He had lingered too long around near-beer shops, and had a drunken scrap with O'Garra, of the Rocky Mount team. It was for this that he was arrested. He had to be handcuffed and dragged bodily to the station. A little later O'Garra made himself disorderly by shouting through the police grating to Turpe, and he was locked up. The team was to leave on an early morning train for their next series, and Police Justice Strother was pulled out of bed and induced to name a nominal fine under which the two players could be released.

Thorpe is quite an athlete. He is a Carlinie Indian, and was on the Indian football team that played Carolina.

Brought Doin' Damage.

ANDERSON, S. C., August 26.—A severe drought, which set in five days ago, is causing cotton to rust, and leaves are dropping off rapidly. Forty thousand Bales are produced in Anderson county annually, and leading farmers announce that the crop is now being damaged at rate of from $50,000 to $100,000 daily. Unless rain falls within a few days, hope for the farmers in this section for a near average crop will be blasted.

CLOTHIER EARNS RIGHT TO MEET CHAMPION LARNED

He Defeats Pacific Coast Wonder in Three Out Four Hard-Fought Sets; Great Match To-Day.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 26.—By taking three out of four hard-fought sets from Maurice F. McLoughlin, the Pacific Coast champion, in the final round of the twenty-ninth annual tournament of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, on the Casino Courts here to-day, William J. Clothier, of Philadelphia, won the right to play William A. Larned, of the national championship, "Larned" and Clothier, who have met many times during the past few years, will play this most important match of the year to-morrow.

McLoughlin, who has startled the followers of the game by his speedy and brilliant playing throughout the tournament, made a game fight to-day and was loudly applauded by the large gallery for his work in the third set. Clothier played the first set by a narrow margin, 7-5, and when he had captured the second, 6-4, the match seemed easily within his grasp. But McLoughlin showed no signs of discouragement. Playing at his best, he fought back and again equaled his former champion on the side lines and scoring easily on his terrific serves, he forced the games to deuce repeatedly, and finally succeeded in getting two games in succession and taking the set, 11-9.

His strenuous work in this set, however, tired him greatly, and although he made a good start in the first part of the fourth set, he was unable to maintain his accuracy, and he drew the set out and into the net, so often that Clothier had no difficulty winning the set 6-3 and the match.

Intense Interest.

Seldom has there been more intense interest in a challenge match than in that to be played to-morrow. Only the first American champion, R. D. Sears, who maintained that position for seven years, has exceeded Larned's record in national title holding, and only one other, R. D. Fennell, has equaled it. Larned, who will play to-morrow, will enter on his fifth year as champion, having won the title in 1931 from M. D. Whitman, successfully defended it in 1932 against J. T. Englemann, in 1933, R. F. Dougherty, won it again in 1937, through the default of Clothier and maintained it last year against Beals C. Wright. Larned had to play through the tournament last year, and he secured the championship in 1937, a victory to-morrow would give him two legs on the new cup. Clothier in 1936 won the finals and then the championship by defeating Beals C. Wright.

Larned, who kept him out of the game for some time, before he had fairly recovered he met and defeated Clothier at Longwood in five hard sets. Clothier later sprained an ankle, and he was unable to play for some time. He was seen on the Casino courts is anticipated.

Season's First Chase.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROXBURY, Va., August 26.—The first fox hunt of the season was had Wednesday night, when the Cherokee Hunt Club, of Black Creek, with its pack of fine foxhounds, were brought out by J. B. Box, master of the hounds, followed by a number of its members, including George Gaudin, James Adams, of Turkey Hill, and many others. The weather was ideal for the sport, clear and cool; the moon shone in all of its glory. They had not got far from home when Music struck the trail of old Reynard. The whole pack joined in, while the happy hunters followed him through the woods the same old notes which carried the music for ten miles into every home. No one slept that night until poor old Reynard bit the dust, after a chase of eight hours without a hitch. Crowds of young people were on their way to revival services in the neighborhood, but could not resist the temptation and followed the hounds.

TOOTH BRUSHES AND COATS FOR HIS COWS

Farmer Schoepf Dresses Bossies in Latest Fashion and Cleans Their Teeth Three Times a Day.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CINCINNATI, OHIO, August 26.—One-piece coats for his cows and their teeth cleaned three times every day is the latest fashion in farm life. Mr. Schoepf, a wealthy traction magnate, who is interested in Richmond properties, Mr. Schoepf's farm is in Glendale, a suburb, and two farmers, whose sole business is to care for the 75,000 herd of twenty-four full-blooded Jerseys, each morning place the coats on the bovines. The garments are cream-colored, one-piece coats in fashion just now, and are used to keep the flees of the bossies during the day.

Farmer Schoepf has always been of the opinion that if a cow's teeth were cleaned better health and better milk would result. In exchange for these acts of kindness each cow during the past two days while the bossies were tried out, produced over two gallons of real pure milk.

When this was reported, Mr. Schoepf ordered that the innovations be a permanent feature of farm life. Mr. Schoepf's friends in Richmond were to-day sent samples of the butter produced from the milk from the cows, whose teeth are cleaned three times a day with a regular toothbrush. The farm produces ninety pounds of butter each week, which is sold to neighbors. Mr. Schoepf's town house here and in New York are both supplied, and the surplus products find a ready market in the vicinity of the farm.
